A report

Nakul Patil Yuva Prabodhan Manch is a innovative practise of our College. Adv. Nakul Patil was one of those social figures in the city who have consistently worked for the up gradation of the community he belonged to. He consistently worked for overall up gradation of life of the city of Dombivli. He passionately led his people on the path of development through education. Several schools, Ashram Schools had come up with his active participation. Pragati College of Arts and Commerce is one such institution which he dreamt of for the propagation of higher education.
